

European Round Table of Thieves

The European Round Table of Industrialists (ERT) is economically controlling the European Union and much of the global market with members running many major oil, pharmaceutical, electronics, and automotive companies like Bayer, Siemens, Philips Electronics, Volvo, BMW, Total, Royal Dutch Shell, ThyssenKrupp, Heineken and others. The House of Bonaparte and House of Bernadotte are the dominant controllers of the CEO's of these companies with them being knighted under their royal orders. The Bonaparte and Bernadotte families have been working together since the Napoleonic War and the Bonapartes helped to put the Bernadottes into power in Sweden. The Bernadotte family have control over a large amount of wealth and use it to fund foreign agents in the United States.

The ERT was founded by Pehr Gyllenhammar who is a Swedish businessman and former CEO of Volvo. Pehr Gyllenhammar is an Honorary Master of the Bench at Inner Temple at the City of London, Swedish Knight of the Order of Olav, was awarded the Swedish King's Medal, and is a French Knight of the Legion of Honour. Another co-founder Carlo De Benedetti is on the European Advisory Committee of New York Stock Exchange, former CEO of FIAT, and was deputy chairman of Banco Ambrosiano until he was convicted of fraud. Carlo De Benedetti is an Italian Knight of the Order of Merit for Labour, French Knight of the Legion of Honour, and a member of the Royal Swedish Academy of Engineering Sciences.

Leif Johansson of Sweden was former Chairman of the ERT, former President and CEO of Volvo, and Knight of the Legion of honour in France. Benott Potier is Chairman for ERT, CEO of Air Liquide, and Knight of the Legion of Honour. Carl-Henric Svanberg of Sweden is Chairman for British Petroleum, Chairman for Volvo, and member of the ERT. Olof Persson from Sweden is President of AB Volvo, former CEO of Volvo Group and another member of the European Round Table of Industrialists. Jacob Wallenberg is a Swedish banker, member of the board of directors for numerous major corporations and a member of the ERT.

Many ERT members are also members of the Bilderberg Group. There are various other ERT members with connections with Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, and Germany and their royal knighthoods however there is a dominance in its ties with the House of Bonaparte and the House of Bernadotte. Bernadotte takes its name from Bearn France. The House of Bernadotte also manage the Wallenberg family who are their court factors with billionaires like Jacob Wallenberg, Peter Wallenberg,

Jr, and Marcus Wallenberg running major banks and corporations. The Wallenberg's business empire is worth hundreds of billions.